Surveys - Cognitive Domain

Evaluation System: Employer Surveys - Cognitive
Cut Score: 2013 report:
Analysis: Over 90% of our Employer surveys were returned. The results were 100% positive.
Action: 2013 report:
No action is required at this time.

Evaluation System: Graduate Survey - Cognitive
Cut Score: 2013:
Analysis: Of the 111 graduates who received a request to complete a survey, we received 22 completed graduate surveys, which is a 20% return rate.

Though our return rate does not meet the threshold, this year we did ensure we had email addresses for all our Air Force students ("PJs") who have been deployed and included them in the survey process, and our efforts to reach them, as well as increase our response from our traditional students, resulted in an increase from the 11.11% overall student average (when PJs were not included) to 20%, a 45% increase.

Of the returned surveys we have 98.38% positive feedback, with no domain categories reflecting a negative score.
Action: 2013: We are continuing to work on a solution for poor return rates, detailed below.
We've continued steps from previous years' action plans:
1) Graduation forms are filled out by all students prior to graduation. This includes a personal email address on it, which will assist in contacting the students better.
2) Updating contact information before graduation
3) Our student alumni association continues to thrive.

And this year we added:
4) In our acceptance packet with all the information the students need for the year, a copy of the survey and information about how it will be sent out 6 months after graduation - so they are prepared for the survey request, and know how vital it is to our accreditation process.
5) This information sheet is provided at graduation as well.

We will continue to work to improve the return rate.

Will continue to monitor positive placement, however the percentage requires no action plan changes at this time.
